Purpose: Why does IDAGIO exist?

We give the world easy access to classical music to connect people with something greater than themselves

Our purpose is the root of everything we do.

Every product decision, every press narrative, every ad campaign should connect logically to this essential motivation.

Key Messages: How should people think about IDAGIO?

"...the easiest way to listen to classical music"

Complete catalogue

Find the exact recording

Unlimited access

"...an inspiring classical music experience"

Access to knowledge and insights

Recommendations tailored to your taste

"...the home/future of classical music"

Built by passionate experts

Building a sustainable future

The best possible listening experience

These aren't copy-and-paste slogans, but the key benefits we want people to know. Find the entire framework including proof points and approved copy in the expanded Key Messages document.

Personality: If IDAGIO were a person, what would they be like?

Expert

Knowledgeable, educated, cultivated
(but not elitist, technical, opinionated)

We love diving into the facts, stories and people behind the music.

Curious

Open-minded, interested, inquisitive
(but not naïve, novice)

We dig deeper and explore beyond the best-known areas of the genre.

Inclusive

Accessible, simple, clear
(but not simplistic, patronising, dull)

We speak the language of experts while welcoming newcomers.

Our brand voice mirrors the personality of our archetypal core customer, and should be expressed consistently across all our communications, written and otherwise. Find detailed and practical advice in the Content Style Guide document

06 Colour

Our main brand colours are always black and white. Any additional colours come from photography or from our geometric elements.

Use secondary colours minimally, for occasional geometric elements.

Black
HEX: #000000
CMYK: 0 0 0 100

White
HEX: #FFFFFF

Purple
HEX: #5B32FE
CMYK: Digital only

Our functional colour for digital channels. Use it only for decisive calls-to-action at a maximum of once per screen, and only if black or white can not provide enough contrast. In print, it lacks vibrancy and should be avoided.

Bronze
HEX: #876945
CMYK: 35 48 69 33

Bronze implies luxury and class and appeals more towards our classical audience. Use it strictly for geometric lines, not as a large fill colour or background.

Smoky Boy
HEX: #F7F7F5
CMYK: 0 1 2 3

Smoky boy is a nice off-white for when white appears too plain. It helps us recall the look of the app while still having some impact in print.

07 Elements

Geometric Lines

Circles and triangles in black, white or bronze create a feeling of movement and make simple layouts more dynamic. Occasional circular forms makes the brand feel less cold and masculine. Use them as outlines; fills don't work as well. Align them to the grid whenever possible.

Download Geometric Lines \(Sketch\)

Diagonal Grid

The grid helps to make compositions more dynamic and feel more uniquely IDAGIO. Simpler grids function better at small sizes.

Download Grids \(Sketch\)

Simple Grid

Since diagonals can be problematic on screens and varying device sizes, a simpler grid can also be applied horizontally or vertically. This works well for modular designs and always looks clean.

Collage

Aside from our Simple Grid, for two or more photos, it is also possible to arrange a collage. It works best when the photos are anchored to an edge of a layout.

I collaborated with design, product and engineering teams to scope and advocate for a design system discovery project
